

3 CARS, 7 MEN AND 190 GALS. CAPTURED

Rockingham Officers Make Big Seizure Near Stoneville N. C.

Squad of Deputies Trap Four Fords and a Dodge all Heavily Freight With Liquor—Men Detained After Weekly Surrendering.

One of the largest hauls of liquor made in this section of recent years was reported today from Reidsville after a deputies' posse arrived there this morning with five automobiles, 190 gallons of liquor and seven men as a single raid.

The posse of officers kept a vigil for nearly three hours between Price and Stoneville for a party of rum-runners who were expected to pass that way before daybreak. The officers picked their ground well and lined up beside the road at one of its worst points and where a deep mud hole compelled slow going. At 3 o'clock this morning four Ford cars came down the road and the occupants called on to halt quickly did so. The officers soon found that they had made a big haul, but before they had cleared up the number of gallons seized, a Dodge roadster came along and also ran into the trap.

The names of the men arrested are S. T. Price, aged 40; Sam Price, J. M. Riddle, W. G. Patterson, J. L. Foust, Lillard Smith and J. L. Blue. All of the men are said to be from the western part of Rockingham county. The arrests were made without incident and the seven men quickly submitted. The cars and the captives in the cars were taken to Reidsville where all were being held this afternoon. The liquor is said to have come from the Virginia line.

Four Arrests In Connection With Cascade Robbery

Four arrests were made in Schoolfield this morning in connection with the robbery of a general merchandise store at Cascade last night when a quantity of goods valued at about $100 was taken. The store, which belonged to J. M. Still, was broken into and ransacked. The owner got busy and notified the Schoolfield police department, who in turn called on the Danville police to assist them. About 7:30 this morning Sergeant J. L. Edwards and Patrolmen Cole and Cook went to Schoolfield and joined Chief of Police Cole and Officer Hopper.

The officers had good reasons to believe that the robbery was perpetrated by Schoolfield parties. They talked for a few minutes and laid their plans and the search was soon on. The squad of officers were soon as far as the city pump house. Here it was seen that some automobile had backed into an alley ostensibly to turn around, and had jammed into a storage building, the crash from all indications being sufficient to damage the machine. A fire and an inner tube were found, also a small quantity of cigars and cigarettes.

It was not long before a Ford automobile with the rear badly bent inward, was sighted. The officers put two and two together and concluded this was the machine sought, and halted the car to make some inquiry. The driver gave his name as Lester Rich and said that he was a transfer driver. The officers saw some cigars and cigarettes in the bottom of the machine. They questioned Rich closely and soon learned that he had taken a crowd of men out riding the night before, but as he was drunk, he said, he knew little of what took place. The names of the men in question were secured, and it was not long before Velt Sutphin, William Byers and Phil Supphin were under arrest. While they were being detained in an office adjoining that of Magistrate R. S. Fitts, some of the officers went back to the scene at the pump house and recovered a larger quantity of the stolen articles.

The four men had little to say of their activities last night other than that they were drunk and did not know what they were doing. All of them are white.

Disturbance Cases Heard In Court

Several cases of disturbance and disorderly conduct were aired in the mayor's court this morning.

Andrew Soyars, colored, was fined $5 and costs for creating a disturbance at the home of Dave Owens. Owens alleged that Harvey became so boisterous and disorderly that he was forced to draw a pistol on him, after Soyars had grabbed him and ripped his coat sleeve.

Bud Harvie, colored, was made to pay $5 and costs for kicking on the door of Lucinda Luster, a negress, and for using abusive and profane language.

Mary Swann, a negress, was fined $5 and costs for disorderly conduct. She was arrested about one o'clock this morning on the street while using profane language.

Anna White, colored, was arrested for being drunk and disorderly yesterday and was fined $10 this morning.

John McMillan was given a hearing on a charge of non-support and desertion. Mayor Wooding announced that he would reserve his decision for 10 days in order to allow McMillan time to make good his promise that he would provide for his wife and child. It was required to put up security for his appearance in court at a later date and if his promises were not fulfilled he would have to suffer the consequences and serve 90 days in jail and pay a fine of $5 and costs.

Harry S. Greenberg, of the Dan Valley Wholesale company, was fined $25 for an alleged violation of the cold storage law of the state. An appeal was noted in the decision. It is charged that Mr. Greenberg allowed goods to remain in a cold storage plant in Richmond longer than the law allowed. Mr. Greenberg contends that he sent an order for part of the goods some time before the given time expired and on arrival found it to be spoiled. He therefore declined to have the remainder of shipped, claiming that it was the fault of the storage concern, and he having no use for it, left it to the plant to have it condemned and disposed of. It was on these grounds that the appeal was made.

Two amusing incidents brought the season to a close today. Mat Nelson of Acres was the victim of the alleged score of "kiting" tobacco when he was seized, held across a tobacco pile and "padded" by a number of his friends.

Charles Davis also came in for some banter this morning. A farmer is reported to have offered to buy the bill of Planters warehouse, charging that Mr. Davis would have no further use for it and that the farmer needed a good farm bill and thought he might get one cheap.

82 Gallons Of Liquor Seized At Martinsville

Two more men became entangled in the drug net spread at Martinsville for liquor runners last night and severe penalties were imposed today by Mayor Brown who is enriching the town treasury by the levying of fines.

Officers J. R. Hensley and H. A. McCall captured Charles Wilson, of Winston-Salem in a five-passenger Ford car carrying 34 gallons of liquor and he was today fined $250 which amount was met by the accused. The state holds the car.

A man giving the name of Mel Sutherland who claimed to be from Danville was also arrested by Officer Meade last night. He also was in a five passenger Ford which was found to contain 48 gallons of liquor. He was fined $250 but at an early hour this afternoon he had not liquidated the assessment and he was still being held. His car is also held by the state authorities.

The alleged liquor runners, who are hauling of liquor are being made all of the roads except that running from Martinsville up to Patrick county are impassable and it is impossible for the alleged liquor runners to travel along the less well known highways with their contraband. The Martinsville officers realize this and their vigilance is being rewarded, almost daily.

State Prohibition Commissioner Says 1,000 State Officials Will Become Active Co-operators in Enforcing Law.

V. WASHINGTON, March 17.—Vexatious problems await the return of President Harding from his vacation in Florida.

Some of them will tax the ability of the President to the utmost if harmony is to prevail between Capitol and White House, and if executive policies and views are to be carried into effect. Open conflict is in prospect in a number of instances, and decisive action from the President with a vigorous assertion of his leadership, may be necessary.

Congress is far behind in its work, and has shunted aside a number of suggestions originating with the President. Coupled with this is a growing desire on the part of the members of the House, shared by some Senators, to reach adjournment as speedily as possible, so they may return home before the summer primaries and the November elections.

Unlucky much work is to be left undone. Congress will be obliged to transact its business much more expeditiously than it has been able to in past months.

Here are some of the things demanding Presidential attention:

1. The soldier bonus bill, which House leaders insist they will pass against the wishes of the President.
2. The tariff, long-delayed, and subject of dispute between House and Senate.
3. The determination of Congress to reduce army and navy personnel below the point thought safe by the President and his advisors.
4. The threatened coal strike, in which government mediation has failed.
5. The controversy between Secretaries Fall and Wallace over the proposed transfer of the Forestry Bureau to the Interior Department.
6. The ship subsidy, recommended by the President but widely opposed in Congress.
7. The arms conference treaties, against ratification of which a formidable opposition has developed in the Senate.
8. The question of what to do with the Muscle Shoals nitrate plant, threatening long debate.

Ouster Law To Go In Effect April 1

The proposed transfer of prohibition enforcement to the Department of Justice.

1. Necessity for determining a policy with regard to the proposed St. Lawrence lake-to-ocean waterway.

11. What to do about the allied refusal to pay from German reparations $241,000,000 due this government for maintaining a large army on the Rhine.

The soldier bonus bill stands forth as the most likely to produce trouble. House leaders, backed by a majority of the members, are determined to pass the bill, despite the threat of a presidential veto. They are ready for a clash with the President if it becomes necessary and openly express belief the President will not dare to veto the bill if it is passed. Members are resentful at the manner in which the bonus issue has been handled by the President and the Treasury.

Deputations from the House Finance Committee there is a growing restlessness in the lower chamber because of the delay in which the tariff bill has been subjected. Members want the tariff bill on the statute books before they go back to report to their constituents. Moreover, conflict is in prospect over the alterations in the American valuation plan of the House which the Senate Finance Committee has made.

The House Appropriations Committee already has cut the army bill to $135,000, and efforts will be made to reduce it still more. The navy is to be cut to $60,000. With the return of the President and Secretary Weeks, the battle of administration forces to prevent the drastic cuts in the army bill now before the House, will get under way. Representative Julius Kahn, of California, chairman of the Military Affairs Committee, will carry the cudgel for the administration. Dispute is in prospect over the attempt of the House for the first time in history to dictate where and in what numbers troops may be maintained outside the United States.

The navy bill will bring a repetition of the same fight, and the assertion from executive quarters that the efficiency of the fleet will be destroyed if present intentions are carried out.

The coal strike, it was thought, would be certain to demand government interference if public safety were menaced. While the government will not interfere to prevent the strike, it was deemed certain injunctions would be employed to prevent industrial paralysis and suffering.

The Fall-Wallace controversy is smoldering, and may leap into flame when pending legislation over Alaska comes up for consideration.

RECENT ELECTION FORETOLD WITH DETAILS PERFECT

An interesting story has come out in connection with the recent "election" of police officers by the Board of Police Commissioners, which if true, develops the fact that Danville has a remarkable prophet, a seer whose vision into the unknown future is almost uncanny in its accuracy. The story in brief is this:

Three days before the five commissioners met to select patrolmen and to elect three sergeants, one of the three men who were subsequently "elected" told another well known and reliable citizen what three of the seven or eight new aspirants would be chosen and with equal accuracy specified Patrolmen Reynolds, R. S. Mayberry and Ewing as the three who would be dropped by the board. The sequel proved his tip was absolutely correct in every detail. If it were a mere guess, then the newly elected patrolman has a remarkable gift of prophecy and should be able to foresee crimes also before they are committed and thus prevent them.

This remarkable guessing, three days before the board met to make its selections, indicates inevitably either that the guesser did a most remarkable piece of guessing, or that he had a "tip" as to the result. Just how any one knew in advance what the attitude of the commissioners would be in every instance is wholly unexplained, unless the whole matter had been predetermined by the commissioners or by a majority of them. Incidentally it shows that the fate of the three men dropped had been decided in advance of the election; else no one could have prophesied with such unerring accuracy.

Meanwhile the commissioners, pledged to secrecy in advance of their action, steadfastly decline to state anything about the election, and it now appears that this was known three days before the actual election occurred, or certainly before the results of the election were made known.

The Bertha Is Back

BY MARIAN HALE

NEW YORK, March 17.—And occasionally one finds on the newest of frocks something reminiscent of the days when a bertha fluttered at the shoulders of the very gown that laid any claim to smartness.

This Claire frock of palest lavender Canton crepe wears a rusticated sem-bertha of chiffon edged and weighted with finely pleated taffeta. Such a shoulder treatment naturally calls for the fullest of skirts and this too is ornamented with fine pleatings which extend quite around the hem and mount panel-wise to the waist line at the side fronts.

The tight bodice is sashed with narrow silver ribbons tied and caught at the front with lavender velvet roses. Narrow sashings are quite the thing this season and they invariably extend below the hem line of the gown and contrast in color. Royal blue is often seen on black and the silver and lavender combination of the Claire gown is exceedingly

MRS. HUMPHREY ROBINSON DIES IN LOUISVILLE, KY.

Mrs. Humphrey Robinson, after an illness of several weeks, of influenza, followed by pneumonia, died yesterday morning at eleven o'clock at her home, the "Fountain Apartment," Louisville, Ky. Mrs. Robinson was born and reared in this city, being formerly, Miss Kate N. Ficklen, the daughter of the late John John F. and Sarah A. Ficklen. Her father was junior member of the firm of Johnston and Ficklen, one of the original banking and insurance establishments of Danville. Her mother was Miss Sarah A. Slaughter, of Fredericksburg, Va.

Mrs. Robinson spent the first twenty-five years of her life in Danville and is affectionately cherished and remembered by a wide circle of friends. She was a woman of most attractive disposition and manners, bright mind, sympathetic instincts, and of a keen sense of humor—qualities which won admiration from old and young.

Her husband, Humphrey Robinson is head of Louisville's largest firm of certified accountants and bank examiners, was and was at one time in the tobacco business here. They have one son, Goldsborough, a young man prominent in the electrical engineering world.

H. C. Ficklen, brother of Mrs. Robinson, and now the only surviving member of a large family, left with his wife, for Louisville on the early morning train yesterday.

The funeral will be in Louisville at 2 p. m. today, March 17.

ST. PATRICK IS PATRON SAINT FOR THIS FRIDAY

Today is St. Patrick's Day, an anniversary dear to the sons of the Emerald Isle, of which Patrick was the first bishop and subsequently the patron saint. In many cities wherein men of Hibernian birth or extraction are sufficiently numerous street pageants are arranged on this day, and it used to be celebrated in the old "damp" days with a banquet. It is a more or less prevalent idea that St. Patrick's day is the time to plant Irish potatoes, white potatoes, apud or whatever one elects to call the tuber which is extensively grown in the land of the shamrock. Another ancient theory formerly held by many is that St. Patrick rid Ireland of snakes.

St. Patrick went to Ireland as a missionary in the early days of the civilization of the island and as a result of his preaching and ministrations succeeded in bringing the islanders to Christianity. It is a beautiful legend explanatory of the fact that the shamrock is so highly prized by Irishmen that when Patrick was preaching to the then crude people, he had difficulty in enabling his hearers to grasp the idea of the Holy Trinity. Pausing and looking down reflectively in his meditative effort to find a concrete illustration that would drive the truth home to his hearers, his eye espied the shamrock with its verdant foliage and its triune leaf, whereupon he plucked one, held it aloft and cried: "See, here it is—here is one, one in three." That explanation was given once in an address by a scholarly priest then located in Virginia.

It is a popular theory that St. Patrick's Day is usually windy, whether because of its recurrence in mid-March, or because observation justified the theory that it usually happened to be windy on that day. If that theory be sustained by the facts, today promises to be an exception.

For years many besides Irishmen have had the habit of "wearing of the green" on St. Patrick's Day, a custom probably originating in the beautiful legends of the shamrock, above related. Ireland is known as the Emerald Isle, and its familiar flag is a green ground on which a large golden harp is depicted.

NEW YORK CRITICS PRAISE "SKY PILOT"

A production declared to "run almost the entire gamut of movie possibilities" is "The Sky Pilot," which is the chief attraction at the Broadway today.

Ralph Connor's original novel "The Sky Pilot," from which the picture was adapted, most artistically blended the subtlety of human interest with the tenacity of dramatic situations but even his own art has been enhanced in the picturization of the story. One of the most effective of the thrilling incidents in this story is a cattle stampede in which hundreds of panic-stricken animals are seen in a mad onrush toward the camera.

To John Bowers is allotted the role of "The Sky Pilot," while others in the cast are such local favorites as David Butler, Colleen Moore, Harry Todd and Kathleen Kirkham. According to Broadway critics, the picture is one of the real motion picture gems of the year.

Young Men's Bible Class Banquet At The Country Club

The Young Men's Bible Class of the First Presbyterian church held its annual banquet at the Country Club last night and 52 members enjoyed the bounteous feed and the still more bounteous word-feet. Everybody ate to capacity and almost everyone talked to the same degree—at least everyone was given a chance to do so—by the efficient chefs who provided the appealing viands, and to talk, by Toastmaster Harry Woodling, Jr., who allured many to make speeches by his own easy flow of words.

The members of the class gathered at the church at 7 o'clock last night and were taken to the club in cars. On arriving, little time was lost in repairing to the dining hall where an abundance of good things to eat had been provided. After full justice had been done to the banquet, Randolph Perkinson, president of the organization, gave a brief sketch of the organization, from its inception to the present time. He told of the great interest that had been aroused among the young men of the church and the rapid growth in membership. In closing he designated Harry Woodling, Jr., teacher of the class, as toastmaster.

Mr. Woodling is a ready and eloquent speaker, apt in his allusions and possessing a ready stock of anecdotes as well as the common garden variety of jokes with which he interpolates a speech or a series of speeches—most happy attributes for a toastmaster. He was in his happiest mood last night. The list of speakers introduced by the toastmaster reads more like a list of the guests at the banquet. The toastmaster seemed to have an uncanny power to inveigle all to talk.

The program of the evening was started off by the presentation of the pennant won by the Reds in the recent membership contest. This was presented to the president of the Reds, Leolf Ferguson, by George Goodeman, Jr., superintendent of the First Presbyterian Sunday school. To the next speaker of presentation Ferguson responded with words of appreciation, giving the credit to his co-workers.

Dr. H. W. DuBose, pastor, was the first and probably the most interesting speaker. He spoke of the growth of the church and of his pleasure in watching the growth of the Young Men's Bible class as being a fulfillment of his wishes.

The first president of the class, Dr. C. E. Harner, John E. Overby, an officer of the Sunday school, George Radcliffe, president of the Brotherhood, Dr. Robert Harper, former president of the class, W. W. Moore, a former president, Fred Holtzman and Joseph Waite addressed the gathering in succession, all calling attention to the fact that the class had greatly helped the church and had stimulated them to greater interest in church work.

About this time some unfortunate speaker alluded to the fact that he was unable to become a regular attendant upon the class because he day morning. This broke the dam of speech for many and every speaker that followed made some reference to the privilege of getting up early in order to attend the class.

Among the others who spoke at the affair were H. T. Harrison, Latcher Gourley, Max Petty, A. S. Clarke, F. T. Henderson, Riland Perkinson, E. H. Schwartz, J. M. Boylin, W. C. Paxton and Curd Dodson.

What with much to eat that was good and much to listen to that was even better it was eleven o'clock before the gathering dispersed, many already planning ahead for the banquet of 1923.

WOMEN AND MEDICINE

In Europe, years ago, a woman named Hildegard wrote a notable book on medicinal plants. In those days the men were too busy bothering about dogmas of religion and medicine, and the study of herbs was thought beneath their notice.

It was the women, however, who mostly conducted the hospitals and cared for the sick, and thus they had much of great value. They were men light out the questions of the world.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, prepared almost fifty years ago by a woman, Lydia E. Pinkham, did then, and does now, relieve the ailments peculiar to women. It is a vegetable compound and of great value for this purpose. This is proven day after day, and in your own neighborhood, by grateful women who have used it.—adv.

It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. Dail President Greet America

Arthur Griffith Expresses New Ireland's Enduring Affection for People of U. S. on St. Patrick's Day.

BY ARTHUR GRIFFITH
President of Dail Eireann
(Copyright, 1932, NEA Service)

DUBLIN, Ireland, March 17.—Ireland greets America. The new Ireland acknowledges and appreciates the steadfast sympathy and support she has received from the American people through all the years of struggle.

And she reaffirms the long-standing amity existing between the two countries.

On St. Patrick's Day last year Ireland was in the grip of terror, but she was sustained by the fundamental justice of her cause and by the sympathy of the people of the world and pre-eminently of the American people.

This year the terror is gone and Ireland takes control of her own destiny and place among the nations of the world.

The American people will now realize her faith in justice, and that Ireland was justified.

We have a great work before us to rebuild a nation oppressed for centuries.

We, the Irish people, take up the work joyfully.

Our friends in America will find that Ireland restored to the Irish people is also Ireland restored to the world.

The close friendship existing between Ireland and America is built on love of right and justice.

Ireland stands for those ideals now as heretofore.

Friendship built upon these ideals is built upon enduring foundation.

I believe every woman loves a bargain

by Mrs. Mary Preston
Cooking Expert and Food Analyst

Of course women look for bargains. I do! And so does every woman. It just comes natural for us to save money on things we buy.

But there's a difference between a bargain and something that's merely cheap. A real bargain is quality at a low price. That's why I say that Heekin's is a genuine bargain for any woman. But let me tell you the whole story.

You know that The Heekin Company asked me to try Heekin's Baking Powder and report on the results obtained. I analyzed it, and I know that a purer baking powder cannot be made. (No foreign ingredients are added to create an unnatural effervescence or to give a false impression of quality.) Then my assistants and I baked with it—never was our baking more successful. In fact, we have never had one failure when using Heekin's.

In my business, I have had a wide experience with baking powders. But after analyzing Heekin's and baking with it, I really believe that there is not a better baking powder, regardless of price. Yet Heekin's costs much less than any other baking powder that even approaches it in quality.

So Heekin's is a genuine bargain. It is the finest possible quality at a lower price than you would have to pay for an ordinary baking powder—you save money by using it.

And Heekin's is the favorite with thousands of women, because every woman gets excellent results with it.

The Heekin Company is so sure of the successful results that you will get, that they make this guarantee: If anything you bake—using Heekin's—does not turn out to your entire satisfaction, name the ingredients in whatever you bake, their prices, and the price of the baking powder, and the entire amount will be returned to you by The Heekin Company, Cincinnati, Ohio. There are no strings to this offer. Simply send the list with your name and address.

Buy a can today and try it—you'll like Heekin's.

Several Snags Facing Harding

Open Conflict With Congress On Bonus and Army Bill Seen—Must Speed Work.

RICHMOND, March 17.—Virginia's outster law will be put into full force and effect by April, and perhaps sooner, State Prohibition Commissioner Harry B. Smith announced today. This action is expected by Mr. Smith to bring 1,000 local officials, or the bulk of them, into active co-operation with the state prohibition department, but if any of them should show such a disposition not to co-operate as brings them within the purview of the outster statute, proceedings will be begun to remove them from office.

The announcement is expected to create a sensation in many parts of the state where, according to reports, local officers have allowed distilling plants to operate despite repeated complaints and where the plants have continued to do a thriving business until closed by raiding parties from the state department or from the Virginia division of the federal prohibition department.

The announcement of Commissioner Smith is no idle threat. For some time he has been mapping out his plans for procedure under the outster act and is now ready to appoint a special force of men, men whose paramount duty will be to visit every section of the state and take the steps necessary to secure the removal of officers who neglect or refuse to enforce the prohibition statutes.

Commenting on the matter today, Commissioner Smith said: "Although the outster law has been in effect since 1916 it has been practically impossible to give it full force under the raiding system which has been the policy of the department. People would complain that local officers were not doing their duty, but they would refuse to make a specific charge. Our hands were tied and the best that we could do was to send raiding parties into the sections in question and move against the liquor manufacturers and sellers themselves. Now we realize that it is impossible to police the state with our limited force of raiders and therefore, in order to put the outster law into effect and to secure the fullest enforcement of prohibition we are planning to supplement the raiding force with a few directing agents, men who will make it their special duty to keep in touch with the conditions in the various localities, assist the local officers in enforcing the law, and where these officers do not show a disposition to enforce the law, bring proceedings to have them removed from office.

"Under the plan which we have adopted I will send information, as to violations of the prohibition law, to the directing agents. They will then go to the commonwealth's attorney, sheriff and other officers and lay before them the information based on actual facts. They will be told that they must at least investigate the conditions complained of and will be told that, where necessary, the department will furnish raiders to assist them. If the officer in question shows indifference or refuses to act the directing agents will complain to the state prohibition department and this department, in turn, will lodge complaint before the proper judge.

"I calculate that we have about 1,000 officials in Virginia, who are particularly charged with law enforcement. I expect to see a change in regard to the liquor situation in Virginia. Heretofore these officials have not been paid anything for activities in behalf of the prohibition law, but the new law compensates them to the extent and the next session of the General Assembly may give them more."

The outster act provides: "That any person holding any office of trust or profit under and by virtue of the laws of the state of Virginia, either state, county or municipal, except such officers as are by the constitution removable only and exclusively by methods other than those provided by this act, who shall knowingly or wilfully neglect to perform any duty enjoined upon such officer by any law of the state of Virginia, or who shall engage in any form of gambling, or who shall commit any act constituting a violation of any penal statute involving moral turpitude, shall forfeit his office and be ousted from office."

The statute provides that any person, corporation or organization may file the complaint with the circuit court of the county or with the corporation or trustees court of the city in which the officers proceeded against resides and holds office. After the complaint is filed, the judge shall issue a rule against the officer, and the case being given precedence over all other cases on the docket shall be tried forthwith. If the facts alleged are proved, the officer shall be removed from office. If it be found that the complaint is without sufficient cause, the case shall be dismissed at the cost of the complainant. In the case of sheriffs, commonwealth's attorneys and other officers elected by the people the defendant may demand a trial by jury, but in cases where the officer is an appointee, the judge shall dispose of the case.

The complainant and the officer against whom the complaint is made shall both have a right to apply to the supreme court of appeals for writ of error and supersedeas, as in other cases of appeal to that court.

Film Studios Have Slang Of Their Own

NEW YORK, March 16.—Glossaries of the arts of sciences usually have small appeal to the general public. The interpretation of Greek and Latin derivatives, interesting as it is to the student, lacks the direct excitement of the game of keeping up with the latest in slang. Probably that is the reason that the average New York is much keener in the quest for the exact meaning of the argot of the "movie" studio than for that of the chemical laboratory.

Hence the delighted air of a group of eager seekers for knowledge, who were being shown through her studio by Miss Helene Chadwick in the midst of more or less turning.

"Kill that chair!" called the director, to the consternation of the group. "He just wants the chair taken away," said Miss Chadwick.

"Those rushes last night were rotten," the director was shouting again. "But what can you expect with nothing but a crank turner, a bunch of camera men and a star who's always mugging herself to death?"

"He isn't feeling so cheerful this morning," Miss Chadwick smiled. "He says the first prints of the scene taken yesterday weren't good and he's blaming it on everybody except himself. He says the camera man hasn't any art, that he's just a mechanic, that the extra people are trying to pose in front of the camera all the time, and that the star is overdoing her facial expressions."

"As far as I'm concerned," the leading man observed during a moment's lull, "I think there were too many tricks and not enough fadeouts in that stuff yesterday."

An iris means to increase or decrease the size of the picture by opening or closing the shutter of the camera," he hurriedly whispered Miss Chadwick. "Of course you know that a 'fadeout' is where a picture is made to vanish by decreasing the amount of light."

"It wouldn't have done any harm to have panned that buxom scene," she means that they should "panorama" the camera," Miss Chadwick said. "That is to turn it sidewise while it is being cranked to get in several parts of a scene in succession."

"Hit her with the ash can. What's the matter, there?" Hit her with the ash can!" roared the director. Miss Chadwick's guests ducked involuntarily as the set flooded with light.

"That's nothing," Miss Chadwick concluded, smiling, as she headed her party on toward the next set. "The ash can" is a special big hit. It just wanted those big lights turned on."

"Oh!" said the guest.

Woman Mayor of 80 Wars On Male Vamp

Executive of Ohio Town Also Hits at "Wets," But Says "Dry" Efforts Are Like Trying to Mop Up Lake Erie.

MAGNETIC SPRINGS, Ohio, Mar. 15.—Declaring the efforts of the Government to enforce the eighteenth amendment remind her of a small boy trying to dry up Lake Erie with a one-ounce sponge, Mrs. Mary McFadden, 80, who recently became mayor of this little village, let fall for the benefit of a band of church members who visited her such pearls of wisdom as would do credit to the late King Solomon.

"Prohibition leaders must remember," she said, "that Home wasn't built in a day, and they can't expect the few thousand agents now employed to enforce the law among all the millions of inhabitants of this country. The effect of the prohibition law will be most noticeable 20 years from now, when children will not know the meaning of the term 'whiskey'."

Replying to a question regarding her attitude on the present-day girls' mania for bobbed hair, short skirts and rolled stockings, Mrs. McFadden said no real mother would appeal to the authorities on the press for assistance in rearing her own children.

"However," she said, "I believe that some of the mothers whose skirts are just as short as their daughters' should encourage the daughters to bob their hair as a mark of distinction between parent and child."

"The world isn't half as bad as it is painted. The chief trouble lies in the fact that there seems to be a band of reformers who, for a consideration, will attempt to change anything desired changed. Less fanatical reform and more good common sense is needed, and this fact I will keep in mind while administering the affairs of the village."

Mrs. McFadden also outlined the principles which will govern her as the chief executive of this village—one of the famous health resorts of the central West. They are:

1. War on all male vamps.
2. Enforcement of the curfew law.
3. Good roads and more of them.
4. Harmony as among all citizens.
5. Stop the leaks in prohibition.

In connection with her fourth policy, Mayor McFadden lays great stress upon her plan, already announced, of serving coffee and doughnuts, or cake, pie and coffee, to bring the councilmen to the regular and special sessions of council.

"Men are only boys with beards," she says. "I've always found that they are very reasonable after they are fed, and I'm sure there'll be a full session of council as long as I'm mayor. Of course, if some of them don't care for doughnuts we'll have apple pie or cake for them."

Woman In Movie Show Gives Sermon

STAUNTON, March 16.—"Don't use my name; I was simply obeying the Lord I didn't do it for publicity." This was the explanation given by Mrs. Elaine Furr, of this city, after her sudden appearance on the main floor of a theater here last night, while the film, "The Grim Comedian," was being shown.

The picture had reached the second reel when a woman approached the "man at the door" and with the statement that she would return in a minute entered the theater. Advancing down the left aisle with hands uplifted she launched into a peroration of a sermon that is said to have run the gamut of tortures which she depicted as the rewards of those who attended a motion picture theater when churches of the city were holding a revival.

Staunton's white protestant churches are now in the midst of a two-week simultaneous evangelistic effort.

"Here you sit in the theater when the churches are calling you," said Mrs. Furr.

An astounded audience forgot the "Grim Comedian" and turned its attention to the speaker.

"Why will you spend eternity in—Oh, won't you come to church?" This was the thread which ran through the whole of the woman's discourse which lasted perhaps four minutes. The orchestra finally struck up and the woman stopped talking, leaving the theater.

En route from the movie house she is said to have continued her personal evangelism, inviting people she passed to go to church. Finally she turned in at one of the Main street churches, practicing her own doctrine.

EGGS FOR MISSIONS.

NEW YORK, March 16.—Baptist women in the farm districts of Iowa have been asked to contribute all the eggs laid by their hens on Sundays from now to the end of April to help finance home and foreign missions. The Northern Baptist convention announced today. A statement issued by the convention here stated that such contributions would add $75,000 to the fund.

HAS 102 WAR WOUNDS

LEXINGTON, March 16.—Atop the evidence given by exploits of Sergeant York and Sergeant Woodhull comes that of Sergeant Joseph, of Hazard, now at a hospital here for his fifteenth operation. Joseph has had 67 bullets taken from his body. He was wounded 102 times after being in the front lines 15 months without getting a scratch. Fifteen of the bullets passed entirely through his body, but now he says he feels fine, he says, except for his foot, on which the operation was performed. His outfit was Company G, 13th Infantry, 1st Division. He was on the Orléans Lorraine front with French Colonials, participated in the capture of Cantigny, helped take Mindtaor, was in the great drive on Soissons, was 45 days on the Champagne front, was in the drive at Chateau-Thierry and in the Argonne, where he received his wounds.

EMPEROR JONES' MUSTANG

Charles S. Gilpin, negro dramatist, star, a product of the South and who of recent months has made a name for himself among thespians for his role in "Emperor Jones," bids fair to lose that measure of support that would have greeted him by failing to recognize the color distinction south of the Mason-Dixon line.

Gilpin and his troupe of colored co-performers were nearing Winchester in a train the other day and when the conductor notified the company that it would be compelled to make the rest of the journey in cars provided for colored people. The actor became angry at the discrimination and after a wrathy exchange between him and the train officials in which President Harding's pea for "equal rights" and opportunity "voiced on his memorable trip to Birmingham was invoked, the whole company alighted from the train and continued the journey in automobiles.

With Richmond claiming Gilpin as a native son, it is all the more strange that he should have attempted to evade a stringent law well recognized by everyone in the South and particularly well-known among the colored race. It might have been understood had Gilpin hailed from Chicago or some other so-called Paradise of the colored man, but for a Southern negro to attempt to weigh against the law of the States and Persimmon is a bit difficult to explain and as his long sojourn North has changed his views.

Gilpin's success in the play in which he takes the leading role has been favorably commented on generally in the South. To no doubt he has achieved in the railway incident with his lustre on his present tour. It is, after all, always wiser to do in Rome as the Romans do.

RUSSIA BEYOND REDEMPTION

The enormity of the Russian debacle and the waning of its civilization is being constantly impressed upon the world. The authenticated stories which are emanating from that unhappy land reveal the scope of the tragedy and to what little extent the generous gift of millions of dollars' worth of food by the American government is effective in relieving the conditions prevalent. With the winter of famine passing and its thousands of dead through lack of nutrition comes the spread of typhus fever which has been enlarging its grip on the country since November and which is running unchecked with countless victims. It would seem that it would take the combined efforts of the world to lift Russia from its present slough of misery, yet its government is almost resistant of charitable efforts.

Now comes the most horrifying development of all—cannibalism among these unhappy mortals living in large areas absolutely denuded of anything fit to eat. The pictures drawn of prowlers invading nearby villages for the bodies of the dead in order to avoid the possibility of eating relatives is ghastly and as a nightmare yet this is the statement of a woman school-teacher who has fled from the horror and reached Poland. But Russia has so long been on the pages of daily chronicles with each succeeding woe worse than the last that the public mind has seemingly become tempered. Nothing is too bad to be believed of Russia and nothing will startle the rest of the world to whole-sale remedial action since the nation has become fixed in the public mind as utterly hopeless and beyond redemption.

DRINKS BRANCH, March 17.—(Graping Wireless)---Today is the Irishman's Fourth of July. Another St. Patrick's day dawned and the sons of Erin are bound to celebrate the birthday of the Emerald Isle. This war-like race is maintaining its reputation for fighting, always fighting about something, and the Irish are no exception. The Irish are fighting a thousand years before the Welchmen came down out of the trees and put on pants. This romantic people of the Shamrock, and the sherry-lee which is the first Irish ball but mentioned in history have twisted the Lion's tail so much that the noble beast finally stood from under. The trouble in this troubled country is now internal and we are in favor of letting them fight it out among themselves.

Irish wit has a sparkle that is not approached by any other branch of the Angry Saxon race. Up in Boston a few years ago one O'Leary telephoned his friend that Blady was dead and to come out and pay his respects. When the Mick arrived he noticed Pat doubled up in a corner in great distress so he passed out without disturbing him. Several days later they met on the street and the friend undertook to express his sympathy explaining that he did not wish to talk with him at the house as he seemed so overcome by the shock. The reply was, "Oh, Jerry, I am all broke up—but you have seen me at the cemetery, I lasted it—out there."

Trusting the Job
The old gentleman wasn't long for this world and had asked his lawyer to read the will to him.
"How's this?" asked the lawyer.
"You've named six bankers in your will to be pall-bearers. Of course it is all right, but wouldn't you rather choose some friends with whom you are on better terms?"
"No, Judge, that's all right. Those fellows have carried me for so long they might as well finish the job."

Maybe the Patton street mail box was knocked down by a policeman running for office.

Help!
Here is a household hint from a New York housewife:
"To rid your pantry shelves of rodents, wipe them with denatured alcohol every few weeks."

But how are we going to make them hold still while we wipe them an alcohol rub?
When they first met he said, "A Bear for every hop he had a he he there. He did her footstep far and near. He called her 'bird' she called him 'Dear'."

A little horseplay hitched the two. Now he's the goat! It's nothing queer!

A Quick Return.
It was a pitiful mistake an error and grief. I waited for the railway train the light was low and dim. It came at last and from a car there stepped a dainty dame and looking up and down the place, she straightened up to me.

"Oh Jack," she cried, "Oh dear old Jack," and kissed me as she spoke then looked again and frightened cried, "Oh what a bad mistake!"

I said, "Forgive me madam fair for I am not your Jack and as regards the kiss you gave, I'll straightway give it back."

And since that night I've often stood upon that platform dim but only once in a man's whole life do such things come to him.

One of the office force just told us of a couple who had been married for twelve years and were still holding hands. Then added, "The man was afraid to let go for fear he would get hurt."

Sad!

BEGGAR CAPITALISTS OPERATES IN N. Y.

NEW YORK, March 16.—Two crippled women, a little crippled boy and an armless man appeared in Brooklyn court today as witnesses against John Stefan, who admitted that he employed the four to beg for him.

Their wages, he said, were $3 a day, board and liquor when they wanted it. They agreed to give him all the money that tinkled into their pockets.

Stefan, who is six feet tall and a heavyweight, had distributed his beggars at advantageous points in the shopping districts, and was encouraging them to go into activity when a policeman sent them all to the station. A search of Stefan's pockets netted two bank books showing recent deposits of $250, $60 in pennies and dimes, and $14 in bills. All were charged with vagrancy and sent to the work house pending further investigation.

Ford's Miners, Draw $3 Above Scale, Laugh At Strike Talk

By HAL COCHRAN
KENTON, Va., March 16.—A national coal strike, it isn't worrying Henry Ford. Not any more than the threatened 1921 railroad strike worried him.

For Ford has his own railroad, then, and he has his own coal mines here, too.

The United Mine Workers headquarters at Knoxville, Tenn., recently announced that when the coal strike comes the Ford mines will continue in operation.

"This because the Ford miners are working on a contract basis and drawing a pay that averages close to $3 a day more than the ordinary miner's pay."

How can Ford afford to do this? Abner Lunsford, general manager of the Ford mines explains.

Simply by doing away with the coal strike. The coal is mined by the Louisville and Nashville railroad to Cincinnati. There is a Pennsylvania line, the Big Four to Toledo on the Erie field. That taken to Springfield, the most central point of Ford's own railroad, the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton is used on that road as fuel. That taken to Toledo is distributed via Ford's own railroad, to the various Ford plants for use as fuel.

Lunsford explains that the Ford mines were not union mines. But he added Ford has made it plain that a man can belong to a union if he wishes. We laid the mine jobs open to all union or non-union and both classes are working in our mines.

We believe that the peace and satisfaction in the Ford mines is due to the fact that we pay what we believe a fair wage give the miners as many benefits as possible and pay strict attention to our safety first motto in all our conditions.

The mine is taken to and from the mine entrances in a man-car which climbs an incline of 65 degrees. The mine is taken to and from the mine entrances in a man-car which climbs an incline of 65 degrees.

The general store in Harlan Hollow is run by the mine on a cost basis. And the large boarding houses, also run by the mine furnish three meals and room to single miners at $1.25 a day.

The miners with families who do not own their homes rent those owned by Ford for an average of $6 a month. The majority of these are four rooms double floored, lathed and plastered and have electric lights.

Each camp has a large bathroom. The miners leave their homes in the morning dressed in very dry clothes and change to their mine outfits at these bathrooms. At the end of the day they go from the mine to the showers and change back to their regular clothes.

Miners' wives seldom see their husbands in their working outfits.

"He always has."

"I know he has. And it's a disgrace to the community. It's got to stop."

The door opened and Skinny Shindle entered. He had a note on the desk in front of him.

"I stopped at Walton's," said Shindle. "He and Tom's niece, gumming this shoe, said I was to be sure and give it to you as soon as I could."

"When did she give you the note?" Billy inquired casually.

"Oh, round half-past two."

Without another word Shindle turned and walked out. Billy Wingo opened the note.

"Dear Billy,"

"Please come out here as soon as you can. Come tonight with out fail I need you."

It was signed with Hazel Walton's full name.

Billy unfolded the note read it again then tossed it into the cardboard box that served for a waste-paper basket.

He crossed the room to an open door, giving into one of the inner rooms. Passing through the doorway he pushed the door partly behind him. Billy applied his eye to the crack between the door and the jamb.

Billy saw the judge lean forward, pluck the note from the box and dive noiselessly across the room to the stove. The judge opened the stove door and dropped the letter on the top of the blazing wood.

The door was noiselessly as he had opened it, the judge returned to his chair, sat down and crossed one knee over the other.

Billy returned to the office. The judge made to rise. "Well, I won't keep you any longer. We'll be the Kiroe business wait over a few days."

"Sit down, Judge," Billy Wingo murmured softly, his hand resting as if by chance on the butt of the size-shoe.

"Judge," he remarked suddenly, "deceit and fraud should be remedied on all occasions. Tell me why you put that letter in the fire?"

"Give it any name you like," replied the judge carelessly. "I don't feel like answering your questions."

"Yet a little while back you didn't mind answering any questions I felt like asking. Was it a cream time, Judge—to gain time till Skinny Shindle came in and did his part with the note from Miss Walton? Dumb, huh? Perhaps you'd rather tell me why Simon Reeffoot acted about the same way. I expect you were delayed getting here, huh, Judge? Simon kept looking out of the window all time, I remember."

"Be advised," said the judge suddenly. "You can't buck us alone. You should know that."

"I should—maybe," returned Billy Wingo. "But I feel like telling a gambler with you. So instead of going to Kiroe's we'll do what the letter said and go out to Walton's today."

The judge lifted his eyebrows.

"We?" confirmed Billy calmly. "You're going with me."

"No," said the judge.

"Yes," insisted Billy Wingo, "and what's more, I'll lend you a suit of my clothes and my white hat and my red-and-white shirt. Which there ain't another pair of pants colored like mine in this county; and just to make it a fair deal, I'll wear your buffalo coat and your fur cap, and I'll ride one of your horses."

The judge's face wore a curiously motionless pallor that gave it the hue of a dead fish's belly. "Are you insane?" he gasped.

"Not me," denied Billy Wingo. "For a space he considered the judge, then he said:

"I guess we're ready for Riley."

Despite his professional calm the judge almost bounced out of his chair. "Riley? Where?"

In the kitchen with the door open," explained Billy. "He didn't open with Shotgun and Reeffoot a-tail post would be reduced to guarding the property."

Machine to Trap Ghosts

BY HERVEARD CARRINGTON, PH. D.
Director American Psychic Institute and Laboratory; Author of "True Ghost Stories," "The Problems of Ghost Research," "The Physical Phenomena of Spiritualism," "Psychical Phenomena and the War," etc.

NEW YORK, March 16.—A ghost-hunting machine has been invented. The ghost detector, the only scientific mechanism of its kind in the world, is the ultrameter—or "psychic bowler."

This machine, being perfected at the American Psychic Institute and Laboratory, will solve such problems as the ghost mysteries in Antigonish, Nova Scotia, and Alva, Okla.

Haunted houses will give up their secrets only by the scientific use of the ultrameter, cameras, phonograph records and sound amplifiers.

Do ghosts exist? Yes—certainly. Though 70 per cent of reported cases have been shown to be frauds. And the 30 per cent of apparently genuine cases remain unexplained.

Science is quite sure most ghosts are hallucinations. But I myself have seen genuine ones more than once—not forms, but hands, arms and heads.

Have ghosts mind and body? We do not know about the mind, but science says a genuine ghost is a body an intangible thing lighter than air.

I would measure these phantom things—photograph them—record the sounds they make.

One of my first cases was a demonstration of 3,000 finely tuned copper wires which may be set up in a room, believed to be haunted and covered by wires with a receiving antenna in another room, where the wires pick up the ghostly vibrations.

The ultrameter reveals the presence of a faint energy beam or disembodied—human being or ghost—that comes within six feet of the coil.

Does a ghost breathe? Does it have a heart that beats? Nobody knows. But just as the delicately adjusted ultrameter records the electric energy radiated by a living person's heart and lungs it would by a variation of this electric current passing through the coil record any form of energy possessed by a spirit or astral body.

If a ghost or human body approached close to the coil there is a bounding noise of very loud pitch audible in the receivers, which increases in pitch as the body comes nearer.

Ghostly sounds thus can be recorded and preserved on phonograph records by the use of an amplifier. And the camera may catch whatever emanation or materialized substance exists before the phantom form disappears.

What the "psychic bowler" would do in such cases as the 25 mysterious fires in the MacDonald house at Antigonish and the seven fires that burst out in one night in Mrs. Onda's house in Alva, Okla. is a matter of conjecture.

From a common sense point of view it is absurd that fire should break out in such ghostly fashion—but curious things do happen.

S. T. Cameron Tells Piney Branch Citizens Sentences Are Light—Insists On Hanging.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—That those who administer the laws are responsible for the crime in the district was the charge made Monday at a meeting of the Piney Branch Citizens' Association by S. T. Cameron, chairman of the committee on law and legislation. "The police are doing their duty, but there are too few convictions and too light sentences," he said.

Speaking of McHenry, who is to hang next Friday, Cameron said it was time to be done with sentimentality and to record the punishment of the double murderer.

"A man shoots down a business man and later murders an officer of the law and goes free. After sentimental women are fighting to save him from punishment," he added.

The greater part of the evening was occupied by Dr. Tom A. Williams, neurologist, who talked on mental hygiene as it pertained to school children and to soldiers. He stated that

"NOW I AM WELL AND STRONG"

If You Cannot Truthfully Say This of Yourself, Take Gude's Pepto-Mangan

If you are not as strong and healthy as you used to be what are you doing about it? Are you going to let your body run down in health and be subject to headaches, indigestion, nervousness, and all that long train of ailments that cause so much pain and misery and unhappiness? Don't do it. Start now to take Gude's Pepto-Mangan with your meals and it will build you up to good health again. It contains a form of iron that gets into the blood and gives you strength and greater vitality and a good color—and you will sleep well, because your nerves won't bother you. Then you can say "I feel great" and mean every word of it. Gude's Pepto-Mangan has been used for thirty years—you can depend upon it to help you back to health. Sold in both liquid and tablet form by druggists everywhere, but it will not do you any good if you let it stay on the druggist's shelf.—Adv.

Pimples Keep Young Men Down!

They Make Women, Too, a Puzzle How S. S. Stops Skin Eruptions Positively.

Pimples and skin eruptions have a price—no pay for every pustule, black-head and pimple on your face. Pimples produce prejudice and prevent prosperity. Your heart may be sold, but who wants to kiss eruptions? Pimples don't look like the owners of anything. Pimple women, too, are puzzled with no prospects and no power. Young men and women, however, the positive way out. Pimples and eruptions will fall. What you need is a scientific blood-cleanser. S. S. is one of the most powerful destroyers of blood impurities. You can prove this in a short time. S. S. has been passed on by a jury of millions of people just like yourself. It is considered one of the most powerful vegetable blood-purifiers and flesh-builders in existence. That's why you hear of so many underwear people putting on, but flush in a hurry, why you hear of so many rheumatic being freed from their suffering with S. S. Start today with S. S. and see your face clear and your skin get ruddier, your flesh firmer. It will give you a boost in your career. S. S. is sold at all drug stores. The large size is the more economical.

S. S. Will Rid You of the Crushing Pimple-Calamity.

WOMEN BENEDICTA
the great Female Regulator

a child of eight years of age had an understanding of right and wrong. While he refused to comment on the case of McHenry or to pass judgment on the value of capital punishment, Williams said that the only purpose that prison penalties could serve would be to act as a deterrent. He stated that it was his belief that a man's early environment had a great influence on his later life.

Walter Thompson, chairman of the committee on schools, came prepared to continue his fight against the use of Muzzey's American History. The report of the committee was called for at such a late hour, however, that the battle went over to the next meeting.

With the latest edition of the book in hand he entertained his friends and the press after the meeting, with quotations from the book and comments on it.

Turning to page 520, he called attention to the fact that only 40 lines were given over to the actions occurring in the world war. He also maintained that the new edition gave too little space to the revolutionary war.

SAYS POLICE WERE FORCED TO SHOOT IN SELF DEFENSE

PAWTUCKET, R. I., March 16.—Police officers on duty at the plant of Jencks Springing company here during the riot of February 21 were compelled to shoot into a crowd of strike sympathizers to save themselves from "serious bodily harm," Sergeant Timothy Flynn of the Pawtucket police testified today at the inquiry into the death of Jose Assuncao, a Portuguese national, who was killed in the shooting.

Sergeant Flynn and three other police officers contradicted evidence given by previous witnesses that Mayor Robert A. Kenyon had fired in the air as a signal for the police to use their riot guns. Flynn said he himself had discharged his revolver in the air after the crowd had rushed him and he had been struck with a club and with stones.

Flynn said he had been close to the mayor throughout the trouble, and did not see him with a gun of any kind. He had heard nobody order the police to shoot. On the other hand he testified he heard Mayor Kenyon ask the police to stop the shooting.

Charges made by witnesses earlier in the inquest that policemen on the day of the riots had beaten manacled prisoners in a truck were arrested by Patrolman Richard Flatley. There had been an unruly prisoner, unmanacled, he said, who grappled with one of the police and appeared likely to throw him from the truck. "I tapped him on the head with a black jack," said Flatley.

Patrolman Joseph Harrop admitted that he fired twice with his riot gun. He had been knocked down and while he was down the shooting commenced. He believed it necessary for his own protection to fire. Harrop said he believed the trouble began when he stepped on by the crowd and while he was down the shooting commenced. He believed it necessary for his own protection to fire. Harrop said he believed the trouble began when he stepped on by the crowd and while he was down the shooting commenced. He believed it necessary for his own protection to fire.

The inquest will go on tomorrow.

MIX IN REMARKABLE GRAND CANYON FILM

Tom Mix in his latest Fox thriller, "Sky-High," is booked for the Broadway Theatre for Saturday (tomorrow).

This picture is declared to contain the high speed record of Mix's long career. It starts full speed ahead and only lets down twice in the action—once when Tom slides down the side of a cliff on a rope, and again when he drops out of an airplane into the Colorado River.

It might be added that the Grand Canyon of Arizona is a prominent member of the cast and gives able support to Mix. It allows the redoubtable star to skim around its dizzy edges on Tom's horse, and to ride through its dangerous air pockets in a plane. It shows remarkable self-control as Tom glances and rickshaws off its side. Seriously speaking, the scenes in the Grand Canyon are said to be the most marvelous pieces of motion picture business ever attempted.

GOSNEY—WARREN

A marriage which will doubtless offer the congratulations of the many friends of the contracting parties was solemnized Thursday afternoon at two o'clock when Miss Jessie Warren became the bride of Jesse D. Gosney.

The ceremony was performed at the residence of the Rev. I. E. Peters, a Kentucky minister, in the presence of a few friends. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Warren and a pretty brunette with many admirers. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Gosney and a prosperous young man of the esteem of his acquaintances.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Gosney left for a brief stay in northern cities, after which they will return to Witt where they will make their home.

ONE BILLION IN N. Y. FOR INJURED VETERANS

ALBANY, N. Y., March 16.—A bill appropriating $1 billion for the relief of disabled unemployed world war veterans was passed unanimously by the Assembly today.

Married men or single men with dependents would receive $45 a month and single men without dependents $30 provided they have been unemployed for fourteen days and their dependents have not been settled. The maximum any veteran could receive is $120.

MAILED FOR STOLEN KISS

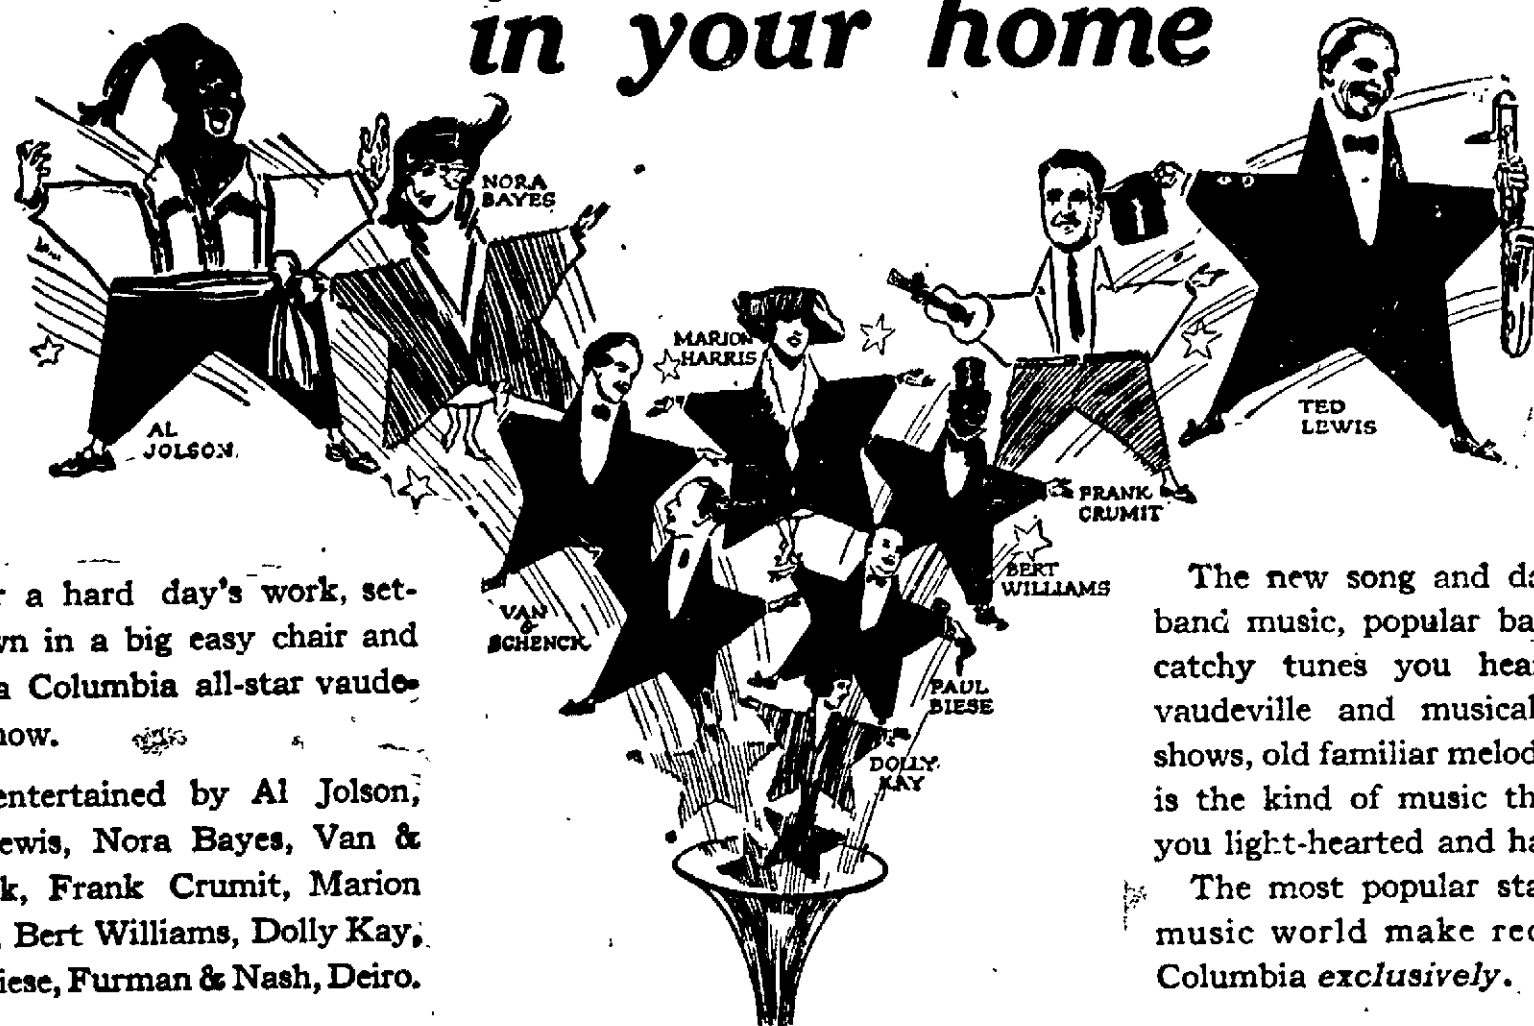

PALE PONTIO, Tex., March 15.—Five dollars fine and 30 days for a young woman was the penalty imposed upon C. S. Maddox, 20 years old, by Judge E. L. Pitts. The girl was charged with a charge of assault based on complaint that she had kissed the woman and caused her to cry.

BIG MOONSHINE RAID.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., March 15.—Ten complete stills and the contents thereof, valued at $10,000, and six hundred gallons of beer and six hundred gallons of whisky were seized by federal prohibition officers in Union county yesterday. The two stills were found in a building which was in full operation when found by the officers. The moonshiners escaped.

CHICAGO, March 16.—Several investigations of yesterday's $8,600,000 fire have begun. Fires are being investigated on persons who stay out after certain hours in Stuttgart, Germany.

MISS BIRKHEAD DENIES SUIT WAS BACKED BY OTHERS

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 16.—A general denial of the charge of Governor Lee M. Russell of Mississippi that the suit for $100,000 damages filed by Miss Frances Birkhead against Governor Russell had been "fostered" or "instigated" by certain fire insurance companies, was made in the deposition given here Wednesday by Miss Birkhead to members of the legislative investigating committee, according to a statement made tonight by Thomas R. Foster, Miss Birkhead's attorney.

Mr. Foster said that depositions taken in his presence from Earl King and S. A. Wilkinson, attorneys, were to the effect that Miss Birkhead had asked them to file her suit against Governor Russell in the latter part of November and the first of December, 1920. He added that the taking of Miss Birkhead's deposition was an afterthought of the committee as she happened to be in Mr. King's office when the other two statements were taken.

ASHURST COMES TO IRISH DEFENSE

WASHINGTON, March 16.—On the eve of St. Patrick's Day, Senator Ashurst, Democrat, Arizona, in the Senate today paid a tribute to the Irish race. Replying to criticisms of Irish-Americans by Senator Williams, Democrat, Mississippi, Mr. Ashurst said the Irish had a high civilization—established 1,000 years before the slant-eyed Welsh ancestors of the Senator from Mississippi, and the shant-headed ancestors of mine in Lan cashire, had stopped eating raw meat.

Senator Ashurst deplored that Senator Williams, "on the day before the first St. Patrick's Day since the establishment of the Irish people 'had seen fit to insult' the Irish."

Danville, Va.Vacuum To Be Used
Instead Of Gas In
Airship Of Italy

LONDON, March 16.—An airship which, it is declared, will revolutionize not only aerial warfare, but air transport generally, is to be constructed and tested in Italy, according to "The Daily News."

The ship is the invention of Signor Vaugan, who, instead of using a gas-filled container to make his airship rise, creates by means of suction pumps, a vacuum inside the envelope, which consequently becomes lighter than air.

For hundreds of years experimenters and scientists have been working on these lines, but always, when success has seemed near at hand, their models have collapsed owing to the enormous pressure of the atmosphere, amounting, with a perfect vacuum, as much as 15 pounds to the square inch on the outside of the ship.

Signor Vaugan, however, claims to have overcome this difficulty by building his airship in three sections, one inside the other. The space between the outside of the airship and the first interior hull is partly emptied of air; still more air is exhausted from the next space, while in the center compartment of the ship the vacuum is made as perfect as possible.

By this means the pressure of the outside atmosphere is distributed over three surfaces and is reduced to less than five pounds a square inch on any portion of the ship.

The airship now to be built is to be equipped with four engines, each of 300 horsepower, of a type invented by Professor Garuffa. These engines instead of burning petrol, use hydrogen in the ship itself, eliminating to a great extent, the risk of fire.

The engines serve the dual purpose of driving the airship through the air and working the pumps which create the vacuum inside the ship, so that the vacuum can be increased or diminished at will in order to make the ship rise or fall.

It is claimed that, owing to the peculiar construction of the hull and to its ability to rise to great heights where the air is more rarified and therefore offers less resistance, speeds as great as 215 miles an hour should be possible, and that the journey from London to New York could be accomplished in 18 hours.

Thickness Of Pillow
Saves a Girl's Life

NEW YORK, March 16.—The thickness of a pillow probably saved the life of Miss Lillian Busset, 21 years old, as she lay asleep in bed in the home of her mother, at No. 219 East 29th street, early yesterday morning.

A stray bullet, in direct range of her bed, on a ground floor apartment and facing the street, passed through a blind window and pierced her right arm. The bullet, entering the pillow and striking the sleeping girl, struck an iron bedpost one inch above the pillow on which her head lay.

Miss Busset is convalescing from influenza. She was awakened by a pain in her arm and found it bleeding. She screamed, summoning her mother and three brothers. They discovered she had been shot. The police were summoned. They were unable to find the person who fired the bullet.

The police learned several shots had been heard in the neighborhood. Miss Busset's injury was slight.
